Halifax, Nova Scotia, Nov. 1903.
Gentlemen,—I have given Dr. Jodan's French Lovers a fair trial, and have little hesitation in that for a relief from hoarseness and sore throat, prefer them to either Bryan's or Brown's, which frequently used, and which are so much lauded.

We cannot too strongly deprecate and condemn the spirit which actuated such appeal. Now, at all times, at this state of affairs especially, ought both ministers and people to be united in their sympathy and feeling to sectional feelings, and in their recognition of national unity and common characteristics and animosities—as the very appearance of such sin should be evidence Now, at such times, man should learn to think that our country is one, people one, our aims one; and, uniting their energies, lay together to establish the domination of these British-American provinces in the hearts and minds and homes of a united people.

The Richardson Mine.

A good deal of anxiety has been felt by those interested in the Hastings gold region to know the result of the recent crushing the Richardson Mine. That anxiety has been largely been relieved, by the return of a "brick" of gold, which is now on exhibition at the store of Jas. Glass, Esq. For the last eight or ten days the mill has been crushing what miners term "pay rock." The average yield of the mill has been such that it yielded the sum of $723.30 for a ton of ore, which is a very good return for a ton of $10 a ton. The machinery of the mill works admirably, but, owing to the defective foundations of the stamps, it is not able to work over half the time. The new stamps, which are being made by the Wycoff process, with the addition of grinding pans, seems to work satisfactorily, and so soon as other improvements contemplated are made, it is believed that ten tons a day will be crushed. Although not so good as the expectations of the owners and the proprietors of this mine, the results are by no means unsatisfactory, for if the yield averages $10 a ton, it will pay well.

The impeachment question, it is fair to suppose, is posed of. Although but one of the charges of which the President stood accused has been voted upon, that charge was one of the weakest on the calendar, it was natural to presume, would receive a favorable majority. Anybody who has failed to convict on the charge of "misemeanor," it is not at all probable that a two-thirds vote can be had on the grave charges of "high crimes and treason," so it is reasonable to expect that the President's punishment is at an end. The managers of the impeachment were in favor of postponing the vote upon the charge of "obstruction of justice" until the next session of the Chicago Republican Convention, which commences this week. In the hope that the action of the Convention might have a favorable influence on their case, the managers have urged that adjournment has taken place.

not at all probable the delay will do the Republican cause any good.
